++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
A largely dry but chilly night.

This Evening and Tonight:
Winds easing through the evening. Cloud building from the west with the odd spell of drizzle possible in the early hours. Feeling chilly under clear skies, particularly in the east, with a rural grass frost. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Monday:
Cloud continuing to spread east through the day as it also turns milder. Patchy rain, generally light, developing in the afternoon as a breeze also picks up. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain over the course of Tuesday and Wednesday. Drying up on Thursday with some brightness potentially developing later on. Remaining on the mild side.
